Finland and Helsinki

Finland is the sixth largest country in Europe, but with 5.4 million people the population density is low, only 15.8 people per km². There are still large areas of untouched nature and hundreds of thousands of lakes: 10% of Finland is covered by water and 70% by forests. But Finland is much more than a nature wonderland; it is a high-tech country and relative to its size one of the leading economies in the world.

Helsinki was founded in 1550 and became the capital of Finland in 1812. It is the northernmost capital of the EU and together with its surrounding cities Espoo, Vantaa and Kauniainen, a home to about 1 million people. In the capital region modern architecture and commercial districts are in harmony with parks and nature.

The Finnish climate is variable with its four distinct seasons: the fall foliage with infinite colors; snow and freezing temperatures in the winter; magnificent spring when nature awakes after the darkness and cold and of course, the never-ending days turning into white nights in the summer.

The Helsinki Cathedral

Fact Sheet - Aalto University School of Business

The Helsinki Campus

The Helsinki Campus is located in the central area of Helsinki. The three main buildings, where classes are held, are all within a walking distance. In facilities functionality is combined with history: the premises are renovated to meet the modern standards and represent "modern 20th century architecture" of the 1950s. The study office, international student services, IT HelpDesk, student cafeterias, self-study facilities, computer labs, language studios and sports facilities are located in the main campus.

Orientation and Tutoring

An orientation day is organized for all incoming international students at the beginning of each semester. Each exchange student is buddied up with a local student, who will act as a personal tutor. The tutoring service is arranged in cooperation with the Student Union.

Benefits from the Student Union

For a very reasonable fee, all students are entitled to join the Aalto University Student Union (AYY). The membership is well worthwhile as it translates to benefits and discounts:

- Discounts in transportation such as local transportation (HSL), national train (VR), buses (Matkahuolto).
- Subsidised student-price meals (about 2 - 2.5 euros) in student cafeterias.
- Student healthcare services by the Student Health Service (YTHS), which provides preventive healthcare, medical healthcare and dental healthcare.

The student union organizes many leisure time activities from parties to field trips, from sports to cultural activities. It also offers scholarships, bookstore services and student apartments.

IT and Library Services

The school provides students with the use of computers, school e-mails and a personal home directory (a space on server) for saving data at school. There are more than 300 workstations available for students. Personal computer can also be used at the campus via wireless network. Students can print moderate amounts of documents free of charge.

The library of the Aalto University School of Business (Helecon Information Center) is the national resource center in economics and business sciences in Finland and is one of the largest libraries in the Nordic countries. All text books required for courses can be borrowed from the library. The Helcat Database makes it possible to check availability, reserve and renew the loan online. The library contains more than 100 000 books and more than 150 international databases. More than 5000 annual periodical subscriptions, including electronic resources, are also available.

Career Services

The Career Services Center acts as an active link between students and business. It offers a wide range of services to students, including career information and reference materials, facilitating company presentations, seminars on CV writing, and career counselling services. Every year in November the school organizes ARENA Career Fair, the largest recruitment and contact event for companies and university business students in Finland.

Housing and Living

Student apartments typically consist of 3-5 bedrooms, a shared living room, kitchen and bathroom(s). The rent varies between 230-520 euros per month, depending on the location and the number of tenants. Student apartments are situated around the Helsinki area. Students should budget approximately 400–800 euros per month for housing, transportations, food and other daily necessities.
